

Syllabus: Economic & Finance Data Bootcamp

Revised: August 19, 2014

Overview

This course combines three things:

- Data. We live in a world that's ...
- Programming. To make sense of the data, you need to be able to code: to write computer programs to put the data in a form that ... Be forewarned: you are expected to write programs in this course. This can be incredibly frustrating and requires enormous patience. If that's not your thing, you should not take this course.
- Graphics.

What I expect:

Work. Code.

Background. My target audience is one with minimal coding experience.
